2009 Annual Conference

Web 2.0 & The Trial Bar

a legal and technology CLE experience

A Different Experience

Ready for a different CLE experience? One with topics and speakers who will hold your attention and inspire you in ways legal education never has before? How about a multi-day destination CLE that won't break the bank?

Join us in beautiful St. Petersburg, Florida for a different kind of CLE experience, a family friendly environment and laid back atmosphere where you can meet fellow attorneys that share your values and passion for the trial bar while you learn proven and practical methods to grow your practice.

Growing In Your Field

We've gathered some of the leading authorities on legal topics of interest to plaintiff attorneys. These successful professionals are industry leaders and well-respected litigators, speakers and teachers who will share the hard-earned wisdom and practical experience of their many years in practice.

Building Relationships

A host of casual networking events are available to choose from during the conference, including: a welcome cocktail reception, a sunset cruise aboard a fine dining yacht, a Tampa Bay Rays v. Kansas City Royals baseball game, and a fishing tournament with professional guides and post-tournament party (additional charges may apply for some of these events, so you can attend all or none depending on your budget).

2009 Annual Conference

Web 2.0 & The Trial Bar

a legal and technology CLE experience

The Technology Advantage

We've spent the past ten years forging relationships with the best and brightest online entrepreneurs on the Web. These are men and women who are experts in the fields of online marketing, search engine optimization, web analytics, legal blogging, and social networking. They've started and sold web-based companies many times over and are leaders in their respective fields.

Our marketing and technology speakers are specifically recruited because they have no business interests in the legal profession. They have no ulterior motives, no sales agenda, and no interest in adding your firm to their client list. What they do have is an in-depth understanding of all things associated with the Internet and, because of our relationships with them, a willingness to share that information with a profession that, from a technology perspective, lags the rest of the business world by a decade.

Our Guarantee

We're convinced that this will be one of the most valuable events you'll attend all year. If you're dissatisfied with this conference for any reason, we'll completely refund your registration fee.
